Media revenues continue to deliver with organic growth of 5% on top of the exceptional revenue growth seen in FY 2021.

Organic revenue growth complemented by contribution from acquisitions.

Magazines revenue benefiting from a larger subscriptions portfolio.

Strong growth from US with strong organic revenue growth of 7% compared to slight decline in UK revenue - diversification working.

US represents 39% of total revenue and represents a significant growth opportunity

US growth is stronger (+7% organic) than in the UK ((1)%), notably in digital ads and affiliates - a consistent trend in the past couple of years

US revenue benefits from a higher Media proportion of its revenue:
- US: 77% Media
- UK: 57% Media

Geographic diversification provides a natural hedge on regional macro

*US digital ad market in 2022 estimated $261.1bn according to Statista - June 2022
UK digital ad market in 2021 $35.4bn according to Statista - June 2022

Increased investment in our growth areas.

Multiple monetisation opportunities and evergreen content drives the platform effect.

In parallel, we continue to invest in editorial - organically and inorganically.

Tech stack deployed across the portfolio combined with continued investment in technical capability.

Full integration of acquisitions with removal of duplicative costs and technical debt.

Inflation on costs (salaries and wages as well as print and paper costs) representing (2)ppt dilution. Looking into next year, we expect similar incremental pressure on costs driven by wages and printing costs.

Platform effect driven by ability to scale up revenue without increasing overheads by the same proportion and cost synergies from acquisitions, with profit growth from organic and Platform Effect of ~21%

Continued focus on efficiency of opex investment means that revenue growth flows through to margin.

Adjusted free cash flow up +34% yoy to £267.2m, translating to adjusted free cashflow of 98% of adjusted operating profit.

Working capital outflow result of change in mix and focusing on being a responsible partner to suppliers.

Capital light model - with capex of £11.6m - stable at less than 1.5% of revenue.

Higher interest reflecting cost of debt used to fund acquisitions. Although market interest rates have increased, low leverage (falling back to below 1.5 at FY 2022) has mitigated this. Our average interest rate remains competitive at 3.2% for the period.

Dividend per share of 2.8p paid in February 2022. Proposed dividend for the year of 3.4p to be approved at the AGM in February 2023.

<sup>1</sup> Adjusted cash generated before changes in working capital and provisions adds back exceptional items and includes lease repayments following adoption of IFRS 16 Leases.

<sup>3</sup> Adjusted free cash flow % represents adjusted free cash inflow as a % of adjusted operating profit.

Sources & Definitions

Organic growth
- Organic growth is defined as the like for like portfolio at constant FX rates (i) excluding acquisitions and disposals made during FY 2021 and FY 2022 and (ii) including the impact of closures and new launches. Constant FX rates is defined as the average rate for FY 2022
- Average of the two-year organic growth being the average of the FY 2021 organic growth rate and FY 2022 organic growth rate

Financial notes
- Adjusted results are adjusted to exclude share-based payments (relating to equity settled share awards with vesting periods longer than 12 months) and associated social security costs, exceptional items, amortisation of intangible assets arising on acquisitions and any related tax effects
- Adjusted free cash flow is defined as adjusted operating cash flow less capital expenditure. Capital expenditure is defined as cash flows relating to the purchase of property, plant and equipment and purchase of computer software and website development. Adjusted operating cash flow represents cash generated from operations adjusted to exclude cash flows relating to exceptional items and payment of accruals for employer’s taxes on share-based payments relating to equity settled share awards with vesting periods longer than 12 months, and to include lease repayments following adoption of IFRS 16 Leases. Adjusted free cash flow conversion reflects adjusted free cash flow as a percentage of adjusted operating profit
- Leverage is defined as Net debt as defined in below (excluding capitalised bank arrangement fees and lease liabilities, and including any non-cash ancillaries), as a proportion of Adjusted EBITDA and including the 12 month trailing impact of acquired businesses (in line with the Group’s bank covenants definition). Adjusted EBITDA is defined as earnings less interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation and also adjusted for the items referenced above where applicable
- Proforma numbers compare at constant exchange rates the performance of acquisitions on a like for like (as defined above in organic growth definition) basis
- Reference to ‘core or underlying’ reflects the trading results of the Group without the impact of amortisation of acquired intangible assets, exceptional items, share-based payment expenses (relating to equity-settled share awards with vesting periods longer than 12 months), together with associated social security costs and any tax related effects that would otherwise distort the users understanding of the Group’s performance. The Directors believe that adjusted results provide additional useful information on the core operational performance of the Group, and review the results of the Group on an adjusted basis internally
- Net debt is defined as the aggregate of the Group’s cash and cash equivalents and its external bank borrowings net of capitalised bank arrangement fees. It does not include lease liabilities recognised following the adoption of IFRS16 leases
